

Convincing the Brainwashed

Imagine you found out that somebody were trying to cheat all of us. In loyalty to the group, you would, of course, try to tell the others to beware, tell them what you have recognized. If it is concerning a small item, they may hear, possibly even thank you. If, however, it is a fundamental item, you may be surprised of a different reaction, varying from no reaction at all over a polite refusal (feeling pity that our friend has been caught by such nonsense) to an aggressive attitude, defending the new philosophy. This reaction is what Plato described nearly 2½ thousand years ago, how Socrates told about the difficulties to liberate people held imprisoned in a cave, people who never saw the light of the free nature and therefore had no desire to learn about it.

I am not Plato, but I felt a great understanding for the reaction he described when comparing it to the one I felt when I tried to warn my friends of, what the third Millenium has brought us – and will continue to bring. As you can deduct from the existence of this essay, I have still not given it up completely, although I have realized that I have failed in the majority of cases. One can discuss how it all started – we may have to rewrite history many decades back worth – but there was one crucial event, the one which opened my own eyes, not so long ago.

The crucial event that made all possible was 9/11, the terror attacks on September 11, 2001. If there was only one thing that did not quite fit the official fairy tale (Ali Baba and the 19 Hijackers), I might myself not be so convinced, I might even have been found among the bewildered. Instead, I have found a huge number of evidences, which shows the responsibility for the terror-act to be posed, among others, at state activities. Unfortunately, this makes the report (Responsible for 9/11) too long to be read – modern man has difficulties to read more than one page, forcing me to restrict this attempt, too. I am therefore asking you just to consider it as a hypothetical possibility that 9/11 was staged from the White House in Washington (if you have not reached this understanding already). Given this as a fact, everything else becomes understandable, from the neo-conservative theft of the last two presidential election, the gradual introduction of a police-state in the United States (The Case for Impeachment) the warfare in the Middle East (Leaked Documents for the War in Iraq, Stop the War, We are at the Wrong Front), the terror in the Middle East (Responsible for the Ongoing Terror in the Middle East) and the rest of the World, sometimes just reaching ridiculous dimensions (Terroritis) but occasionally reaching a new state terror (Responsible for 7/7). Therefore, and because the real culprits are free and still performing their malignant actions all over the World, it remains relevant to deal with 9/11 today. And then, there are two factors missing here.

One is the lame reaction of the Mainstream Media. In all the mentioned (linked) complex events, a lot of obvious questions were not posed by media representatives, simultaneously explaining the brainwashed state of the general public and the success of alternative medias, who are not so restrictively acting (Objectivism in News Reporting).

The other is the question of the Israeli involvement in all this. Many others are frightfully cautious even to mention this factor (Anti-Semitism). The major terrorist activity in the whole World undoubtedly originates from here (see, e.g. Israel's New War). Every time you read 'Al Qaida,' replace it with 'Mossad' and it will help your understanding of what is really happening. Both in the USA and in Israel, it is repetitively asked, 'who is the best President for Israel?' (= the worst for America). And this small pirate-state has ambitions towards NATO and the European Union – Arghhh!

But I wrote it all before – therefore, only therefore, it was possible to restrict my statements to one page. Time is up, forget the hypothetical assumption. Repeat after me: The attack on 9/11 was planned in a cave in Afghanistan, America is the symbol of freedom, Osama is alive and his terror hordes are a threat to us all. And now, get back to your platonic cave.
