

Killing a Ghost

Sherlock Holmes cannot die because he has never lived! Osama bin Laden has lived, but his persistency seems to adopt the quoted quality of Mr. Holmes. As Sherlock miraculously recovered from his fatal rendez-vous with Professor Moriarty at the Swiss Reichenbach Falls, you can expect bin Laden's revival soon, but whether from his followers or opponents remains open. He died for the second time (at least) on May 1, 2011.

Osama bin Laden and 9/11

America (at least the cabal around George W. Bush) held bin Laden responsible for 9/11. It is not necessary to uncover all details of this crime. It suffices to refer to my analysis of this horrible crime [1] for the solemn claim, that there were no Arabs onboard the crucial four planes, yes, indeed there were no hijackings at all. Without hijackers, there was no place for Osama in the planning committee of 9/11. This was instead filled up with Americans and Israelis. Thrusting in the stupidity of the people and dominance of the media, this 'New Pearl Harbor' was safely announced a year before [2].

Osama bin Laden and his First Death

Osama was dependant on regular dialysis. At home in Kandahar were mobile dialysis units and on September 10, 2001, he received this treatment at Rawalpindi hospital in Pakistan. When the Americans attacked, he fled to the mountain caves of Tora Bora. There he succumbed to pneumonia on December 16, 2001 [3]. You can perhaps imagine that the fresh mountain air in winter is not so healthy for a chronically ill man who is cut off from receiving his needed dialysis.

The 'Confession Videos'

But there were some, who missed him. To his honour, different well-nourished actors, visibly different from the late Osama bin Laden were engaged when President Bush 2nd found it necessary to scare his own sovereigns. At least, they had a white cap and a long beard in common with the figure they were meant to portrait. Osama himself tried in vain to refuse any responsibility for or accept of 9/11 but strangely enough, these interviews were only published in unimportant places. There was also an old video, published by the Americans shortly before his death, with a wrong and totally misleading translation. By the way, how would you feel if (your name) was given credit of being the mastermind of a large crime and all your attempts to deny responsibility were associated with a wrong translation, further strengthening the accusations?

The Hoax of his Death in 2011

Suddenly, on May 1st, shortly after midnight, local time, the Americans attacked a house in Abbottabad a suburb to Pakistan's capital, and killed 4 inhabitants. The action was transmitted live to the White House in Washington; the audience was then shown when the operation was deemed a success. The old (unarmed) man killed was identified by means of a Pakistani DNA-test, which gives the result instantly (in the rest of the World it takes at least two days) and probably it doesn't need comparative material. The body was appropriately disposed of, being flown (via Afghanistan) to a carrier (USS Carl Vinson) and from there dumped to the sea.

Who Was the Real Victim?

If it wasn't bin Laden, who now was killed, who was it then? Let me call him Ole bin Larsen, retired postman, Danish citizen of Pakistani origin. He was wealthier than retired postmen generally are, but exactly therefore the Danish authorities had raised an indictment of tax fraud, the gravest crime in Denmark. He had managed to escape ahead of arrest and now, for some years already, lived peacefully with his family in Pakistan (not in need of regular dialysis). Now, you may claim that I cannot prove that the killed man was bin Larsen, but neither can the Americans that it was bin Laden, since the latter was dead already and the body of his substitute was disposed of, as the evidence from 9/11 also was destroyed as fast as possible. Let the two men, whatever they may have done, rest in peace, bin Laden at Tora Bora and bin Larsen in the stomach of a shark in the Indian Ocean.

Timing and Mainstream Medias Brainless Reaction

As could be expected, the mainstream media lauded the action without posing any of the above indicated questions. The same day, ironically, the Danish daily, Politiken, posted a questionnaire entitled, 'Are you clever enough to become a journalist?' (clever applicants haven't got a chance). But then let us consider the question, why just now?

One would expect an action like that just before the presidential election next year. Certainly Obama, who has failed to deliver any noteworthy change in his administration's policy after the dark age of Bush/Cheney, could use such a boost, but maybe he needs it now, just in order to be considered a candidate, and before the election we shall be confronted with another fairy-tale ('Bin Laden was not quite dead and woke up as he hit the water ... now, he rules over the Somali pirates'). Senator Rand Poul suggested that the timing may relate to the relative bankruptcy of the state, where Obama recently was forced to raise the debt ceiling. There may be other reasons, each day its own misfortune; soon, we may have to kill Khadafy to calm the critics ...

Addition: The New Video-Hoax 2011

After the commando-attack in Pakistan, the spin-doctors were busy serving (or rather, had prepared for a long time) some videos showing the thicknosed actor, but also an old man filmed looking at these clips, also claimed to be bin Laden. At first, you might laugh at these bad falsifications. Are we really so stupid to be served such easily detectable hoaxes? Obviously we are – and then arises the sad thought that the world press also transfers this stupidity without raising a single critical question. Every day, it becomes inevitably clear that we are victims to a censored media reporting.

There was no report of any medical instruments used for mobile dialysis. The Pakistani military reported that bin Larsen had not left the house for five years. Aha, they had been observing him, so either they brewed on the story along with the Americans or they were lying again and the attack was a violation of Pakistan's regional integrity. In any case, bin Larsen needed no further dialysis, for five years, after his life was dependent on it. Enough to raise questions about, but don't wait for the reporters to do it.

Pseudo-Osama (bin Larsen) – unknown actor

M. Rivero: Ears are as unique as fingerprints, and they do not change with time. The ears do not match (and the noses are also different). The man in the video watching TV is most definitely not Osama Bin Laden

Hypothesis to the Identity of Pseudo-bin-Laden

Given that the real bin Laden died in 2001 (and that bin Larsen recently reported well and alive) raises the question: who was actually killed in his place? It is, of course, a big secret; photos have not been published and the body has disappeared. Whether the three wives of the deceased will contribute is speculative, their life is in danger – they are currently held confined by the Pakistani authorities [4], probably adding rather than diminishing the danger. But even in the absence of certain clues, I inform of a possible candidate: could it be the (anonymous) last actor of 2004-07 videos?

The idea, to kill loyal co-operators of crimes in order to get rid of potential witnesses, is an old one, also used by the Americans in Iraq in 2006, and described by me the same year [5]. Abu Musab Al Zarqawi was a Palestinian man, born in Jordan. He fought in Afghanistan together with Osama bin Laden's group, but never subordinated to him. In 2002, he came to Baghdad for hospital treatment of injuries sustained in Afghanistan. His leg was amputated, and he was fitted with a prosthesis [6]. In April 2003, he was killed in the mountains of northern Iraq by American bombardments. In 2004, he was made responsible by the Americans for the bloody terror in Iraq (which was inspired by them), and in November that year, they insisted that he must be expelled if the general attack on Fallujah. His presence in the city was vigorously denied by the inhabitants but still, the city was destroyed and the remaining inhabitants were all massacred [7]. A video-hoax, presented in May 2006 [8], showed a normally walking person, looking like the old one – but the amputated leg must have grown out again. Even the best prosthesis does not allow such careless walking while shooting clumsily in the air. Then finally the US claimed to have killed him in an aerial raid on June 7, 2006. They showed the video of an aerial attack and a large photo of a dead person – could be almost anyone.

So if the killed so-called Osama resembles the thicknosed actor of 2004-07 video hoaxes, this hypothesis, that he was sacrificed, is probably true. If not, this person should better hide!
